All --

Attached file holds OR-based companies that were readied (from a previous database) for mailing but due to Azure issues, were never sent -- Pat has checked their platforms and Ray has also looked at these --

Of the limited number of OR-companies provided from the new database, I've pulled 4-5 that 'might' be worthy targets -- We need Pat/Ray to check 'em, but of that small number possibly TWO would be reasonable considerations for a complaint...

Thanks. Here are some preliminary recommendations:

1. Colorado - Hammond Candies

We have sued candy companies in Washington and in Ohio. We can use that to our advantage.

2. Illinois - Hickory Farms or Maui Jim.

3. Washington - Essential Baking, but consider Precept Wineries

Essential Baking is the one we selected. But one way to get out of the $15-$20k range that we have for Ben Hodges is to go after Precept which owns a bunch of wineries in Washington State.

4. Oregon

Let's choose an Oregon company from the newly acquired database entries, that we have never mailed out (takes away the Oregon statute from being issue if we settle out with Azure before it is struck down).

5. Michigan. Organize It.

We should use local counsel Dave Weiling who was our local for Shar.

6. Hawaii - Tori Richards

7. North Carolina - Ray let's look for local?

Attached file holds companies that we have notified -- I've started adding date of mailing, which is indicated on the 'newer' companies contacted...

Melody: Can you send an updated excel spreadsheet for the various jurisdictions that we are tracking as candidates for filing lawsuits? I want to review and propose candidates to get complaints ready for filing in Washington State (Specialty Bottle case dismissed today); N.D. Illinois (draft Woodland Foods settlement circulated to the other side); and in D. Colorado.

Ray: Can you review the draft complaint for N.D. Ohio and S.D. Ohio that Jen sent over?
